

ForbesLife

SEPTEMBER 2007

FASHION GOES PREP

ONE SPICY CHINESE ART MARKET

A SOLAR AIRPLANE
READIES FOR TAKEOFF

IS GOLF GOING GREEN?

ANGLING IN MONGOLIA

IVY STYLE

On the Luxury Trail

TOMAS MAIER, BOTTEGA Veneta's creative director, doesn't just rework a classic—he breathes new life into it. This collapsible camp bed, from the company's small but select furniture collection, is a perfect example: Vegetable-dyed leather strips are woven across a gunmetal bronze frame, then backed with linen; and everything, down to the classic wing nuts, has been assembled, polished and finished by hand. No roughing it here. $10,800, to order, at select Bottega Veneta stores. (877) 362-1715, www.bottegabeneta.com.

[FOUNDERS' FEE]

magnum Photos, the documentary-photography collective founded by the renowned Robert Capa, Henri Cartier-Bresson, George Rodger and David "Chim" Seymour, is celebrating its 60th anniversary with Magnum Founders, a limited-edition book of a dozen bound images, and one freestanding platinum print, by the four men. Encased in an English buckram clamshell and housed in a custom-made walnut box, each of the 75 books bears a stamp from the photographers' estates. A percentage of proceeds from the sale go to the Magnum Foundation, which will provide grants to aspiring documentarians. $12,500. www.versoeditions.com.

Photographs, top: Ron Reeves; bottom: ©Henri Cartier-Bresson/Magnum Photos